Administrator's Shoe Sale

at the Barre Shoe Company to settle the estate of the late J. M. Marean, and the one thing needed is the cold cash, and in the face of the present dull times we can only see one way to accomplish our mission and that is to offer you goods so low in price that it will prompt you to buy for present and future needs. This sale is not made for a profit maker but to turn every dollar we can into cash by February 1st, when we are to take an inventory and make a settlement with the estate. This sale will start

Wednesday Morning, Jan. 12, and Continue Until Saturday Night, Jan. 29, giving you 16 days of real bargains in footwear such as you seldom get in a large number of so-called sales. A glance at these prices will show that we mean to turn this stock into cash as much as possible. Everything in our store is included in this sale down to the smallest item.

TALK OF THE TOWN

Only one more week of Abbott's clearance sale.
 Don't miss the clearance sale at The Vaughan Store.

G. Bianchi of Northfield is visiting friends in this city.

Did you see the bargains in black petticoats at Vaughan's?

Don't miss getting a muff at Perry's before they are gone.

E. G. Wells went to Waitsfield to-day for a few days' business visit.

Rings, scarf pins, crosses, lockets and chains at W. D. Kilder & Co's.

Mrs. Jed Martin went to St. Albans to-day for a visit with relatives.

Mrs. Inez David of Boston was the guest of Mrs. D. M. Miles Saturday.

Hugh McCurrie went to New York yesterday on a few days' business trip.

John Arioli began work this morning as clerk in Moore & Owens' clothing store.

C. S. Andrews was in Northfield yesterday to attend the funeral of Lyman D. Jones.

The Altruists will meet with Mrs. Gates, 19 Eastern avenue, Tuesday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

James C. DeBruine returned yesterday from Greenboro, where he was called to attend the funeral of his father.

If it is a fur coat for the lady or gentleman, go to the Frank McWhorter company and get 20 per cent. discount.

For that cough—special this week: Home-made horhound drops, 15c pound, two pounds for 25c. Barre Candy Kitchen.

Julius Revart returned to his home in Middlebury to-day, after a visit at the home of his daughter, Mrs. John McHugh.

There will be a rehearsal of the Barre Citizens' band on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. All members are requested to be present.

We have a lot of regular 10c music, which we are selling at 5c per copy; also some regular stuff in this lot. At Shepard's, 14 Elm street.

The body of John C. Boyer of East Barre, who died at the City hospital Thursday night following an operation, was taken to his former home in Fayston, where the funeral services and burial will take place.

All women's clubs that are members of the state federation devote more or less time to the consideration of forestry. The Clover club of Barre has engaged Austin Foster Hawes to give a lecture on the subject before its club and those interested. Mr. Hawes is the state forester of Vermont and will have his lecture illustrated by lantern slides. The Clover club invites all members of the other clubs in the city, the townspeople and all farmers in the vicinity to be their guests at this lecture. The question as to how our forests may best be protected is one of wide interest and should especially appeal to all men. The lecture will be free and will be given at the Universalist church on January 11 at 8 o'clock.
